COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The Board of Selectmen met in regular session Monday evening and acted on a long and varied agenda.

Several Senior Citizens were present to indicate their support for the consideration of a multipurpose center for the Town. Emily Saunders acted as spokesperson for the group. She stated that there was a great need not only for the Senior Citizens but for other groups who need a place to meet. Each member present spoke of their support for such a facility. Ginny Walker, site manager for Senior Citizens meals program, spoke of the success of the program and further stated that the Methodist Church facilities presently being used would soon be too small. The Board asked a number of questions of the group, requested their assistance in further looking into the project, and complimented them on their presentation. The manager suggested that all municipal facilities needs be reviewed in conjunction with this request. Chairman Arlan Jordy asked other Board members to give some thought to this request and directed that further consideration be given at the next Board meeting, Nov. 28.

The Town Manager distributed copies of the proposed guidelines to be used by loggers to bid on the Tree cutting program at the Town Farm. The Board reviewed the form, asked the Manager to obtain additional information and set a special meeting for Monday night, Nov. 21 (prior to the Assessment meeting) to act on the guidelines.

A letter was received from Jim Hutchins referring to his opposition to the Dump being closed on Sunday. The Board directed that a reply be sent indicating that the current schedule is on a trial basis continued on Page Ten

SENIOR CITIZENS MET WEDNESDAY NOV. 9

The Senior Citizens met at the Newry Grange Hall for the regular meeting Wednesday, Nov. 9.

The meeting was opened at 11 o'clock with President Muriel Faudt presiding. All officers were present. The Lord's Prayer by all was the opening ceremony. Reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and approved.

The first item on the agenda was the President asked for the members' help with a schedule for places to go by bus and boat for the summer months. Vice President Elizabeth Lord spoke on the Head Start program. Three or four volunteers are needed to help each week for the school. Maybe former or retired teachers might help each week? She also thanked us for our donations on the afternoon and it will be awarded at the December meeting.

Cora Bennett gave the sunshine report. Get well cards to Mary Carroll, Lyle Martin, Danielle Coulombe, Ansel Jordan, Leona Curtis, Myra and David Foster, and Adeline Dexter. Sympathy card to William Young; and an anniversary card to Nell and Carroll Valentine (54th).

Carolyn Brooks, Past Commander of Mundt-Allen Post #81, spoke on a Veterans Bill "for a Soldiers' Home at Togus" for retired Veterans. A number of elderly ones have no relatives to turn to in their later years. The article is No. 8 on the ballot in the Dec. 5 referendum election. "So let's do it" and vote on Dec. 5 for this worthy cause.

Helen Varner thanked the members for their donations of articles for the arts and crafts table. We received a large amount from the sale. This goes into the treasury.

It was voted to remember our members in nursing homes and shut in at home by a Christmas basket. We are to bring all kinds of "goodies", candy, cookies, fruit or what have you to our December meeting for this annual event.

A letter was read from Janet Mills, chairman of steering committee on women's rights. It is being organized and a form was enclosed to be filled out. A meeting is to be held at either Augusta or Portland in April. Date and place to be announced later.

A thank you note was read from Jennie Coburn for her sunshine basket delivered to her at Ledgeview. It was greatly appreciated, also cards and flowers as well.

A big thank you goes to Pearl Thibault, a charter member for her generous donation to "us". She was an active member and served as publicity chairman for a number of years.

An invitation from the Rotary Club to attend a Christmas Dinner Tuesday, Dec. 20. It will be held at the Congregational Church. The invitation was accepted with pleasure. It was voted to combine the monthly meeting at this time with our usual Christmas tree and gifts. Angelo Onofrio will furnish the tree and the East Bethel girls the birthday cake for the event.

There were 86 members seated at the table. Carroll Valentine gave the blessing. The Mothers Club served a delicious meal, topped off with ice cream plus the birthday cake furnished by Thomas (Fitz) Vail and Andrew Clarke, cut and served by Sarah Stevens.

Those who observed their birthday at the head table were Ethel Ward, Agnes Chase, Eva Buckman, Frances Bennett (Bethel), Elsie Inman, Elizabeth Lord, Ann Crockett,

Garbo and Jillian, well known performers and members of Tony Montanaro's Celebration Mime Theatre in South Paris, conducted a five day workshop for Gould Academy students who have enrolled in the regular drama program at the school. Each afternoon the two professionals met with two dozen students and faculty to teach various circus and acting skills. These included juggling, mime, magic, acrobatics, unicycling, dance and many other techniques of balance, slight-of-hand, dexterity and athletic ability. All those involved were uniform in their praise of Garbo and Jillian, their abilities and stage "presence" and appreciated the opportunity to learn from these two very talented people.

On Wednesday night, Nov. 9, Garbo and Jillian presented a public program of their specialties which left the standing-room-only crowd of over 500 shouting for more. Students from the local schools were invited and many brought their parents which filled Gould's Bingham Hall to overflowing. It is hoped that the interest shown, and the techniques learned will carry over into the regular drama program at the Academy and that there will be a little bit of Garbo and Jillian in every future stage production.

Verna Swan and Adeline Dexter. The tables were decorated with Thanksgiving favors.

It was reported that Joan Coolidge and Bertha Thurston are at the Stephens Memorial Hospital at Norway and Dorothy Abbott at the Maine Medical Center, Portland. One new member, Mary Carroll, was welcomed.

A state of officers will be presented at the December meeting, so they can be seated and preside at the new year meeting, 1978. Maude Danforth circulated the guest book.

Services to prepare clients for employment include medical examinations, evaluation of the disability, a plan for rehabilitation, medical aids, such as braces or artificial limbs, education, or on-the-job training and others.

BUREAU OF REHABILITATION MEETS FEDERAL QUOTA

"The State of Maine, through the Bureau of Rehabilitation has exceeded the federal quota of successfully rehabilitated, severely disabled clients", according to C. Owen Pollard, bureau director.

A 1973 federal act stated that rehabilitation units throughout the country must give priority to serve the severely disabled. The federal government describes "severely disabled" as people who have multiple disabilities that require extended services over a long period of time.

Maine was given until 1980 to reach the goal of having half of successfully rehabilitated clients from the severely disabled group. In the fiscal year 1976-77, 1,007 clients were successfully rehabilitated. Five hundred thirty-eight or 53% of these clients were severely disabled. During the same year a total of 8,242 people received help from the bureau. Of this number 3,764 were severely disabled.

Pam Morton, Corres.

An informal meeting of the Hanover Outing Club was held Saturday at the home of club president John Morton. Twelve members were present. Plans for the upcoming cross-country ski season were discussed. Club colors were selected, black and blue. It was decided that the Crafts Club will work on a design for the patch, and hats will be fashioned by the wives in the group. Trophies will be awarded after each ski outing for the most spectacular fall, on a scale from one to ten. Records will be kept, and a year end trophy will be presented for the greatest fall of the year. New members were brought up-to-date on some of last year's more interesting spills.

The date of the Ladies' Aid Annual Christmas Sale has been changed to Dec. 3. It will be held in the afternoon at the Rumford Point Church.

Frank and Dave Worcester unearthed a large granite millstone on their property which probably came from one of the earliest grist mills in Hanover. The stone is 51 inches wide and 13 inches thick.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Howe and Andy and Ryan were in Springfield, Mass., over the week end.

SNOWMAKING, RACING HERALD SUNDAY RIVER SKI SEASON

Increased snowmaking capacity, a full calendar of racing events focused on newly homologated FIS trails, herald the upcoming ski season at Sunday River Ski Area.

Sunday River's beefed up snowmaking now has the capacity to convert 1.2 million gallons of water into snow in a 24-hour period. "This gives us the ability to change ski conditions dramatically on our major trails in just a few hours," said Les Otten, General Manager.

Snowmaking now covers nearly three miles of novice, intermediate and expert trails including Ecstasy, Cascades, Lazy River Ledges, the lower section of Lazy River, Sunday Punch Headwall and the Mixing Bowl.

A five-day on-snow Thanksgiving Racing Camp is scheduled Nov. 19-23. Open to anyone interested in racing, the tuition includes lodging and meals at nearby Gould Academy, lift tickets and coaching fees.

Ski coaches Tom Reynolds of the University of Maine at Farmington and Bob Harkins of Gould Academy will head up the program.

Also scheduled are a Christmas Racing Camp Dec. 26-30 and a Washington's Birthday Racing Camp Feb. 20-24.

Sunday River will host an FIS sanctioned Eastern Cup Downhill Jan. 18-20 with the race on Jan. 19. This event will attract top downhill racers from the East who will compete on Sunday River's newly homologated FIS trails. According to Mr. Otten, "Ecstasy/Cascades is possibly the best downhill course in the East." Racers in the event will be hitting speeds of up to 80 mph during the downhill, one of the most exciting events in alpine competition.

Also in the process of homologation this fall are Ecstasy/Cascades (men's and women's downhill), Ecstasy/Punch (women's downhill); upper and lower Cascades and Ecstasy/Punch (slalom and giant slalom).

A series of college circuit races which will include Bates and the University of Maine (Cascades) are scheduled by the Eastern Ski Association at Sunday River. Telstar Regional High School and Gould Academy ski teams will conduct training at Sunday River throughout the season.

"Sunday River is gaining a reputation as a fine early season training site because of snowmaking," noted Mr. Otten. Burke Academy in Vermont and the Dartmouth Ski Team also use Sunday River's early season facilities.

A new 9-room lodge with a restaurant will open soon at the base of the mountain, bringing to 11 the number of lodges serving Sunday River Ski Area.

For information on Sunday River Ski Area write for a free brochure: Sunday River Ski Area, Bethel, Maine 04217, or call (207) 824-2187.

FARMERS REMINDED TO CERTIFY PROGRAM CROPS

"All farmers in Oxford County who certify their crop and land use acreage on all 1977 cropland will be eligible to participate in 1978 benefits," Martin L. Thurston, Chairman of the Oxford County ASC Committee said. This also includes farmers who did not have allotments in past years.

Certifying refers to reporting
acreage on a field-by-field basis.
Mr. Thurston added, and applies to farmers who wish to participate in the voluntary farm programs.

He said all these reports must be received in the county ASCS Office within the next few weeks to allow time for the Normal Crop Acreage to be established for each farm by the county committee.

So far, approximately 45 farmers
in Oxford County have certified.

The programs that may become available to eligible producers include the 1978 loan, deficiency
and disaster programs administered by ASCS.

"Farmers may not have needed
to certify crop acreage last year," he noted, "but we want to emphasize that they do need to contact us about their 1977 crop acreages
this year if they plan to participate in 1978 programs."

Producers will no longer have to pay a service charge for late filed acreage reports.

Applicants for all ASCS programs will be given equal consideration without regard to race,
sex, creed or national origin.

WALKING WITH JESUS CHRIST

Thanksgiving
"Thanksgiving Day" proclaimed
by George Washington in the year 1789 - "that we may unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country, and for all the great and various favors which He has been pleased to confer upon us."

This great nation, the United States of America, especially blessed among all nations; has set aside this day to give thanks to our Lord for His manifold blessings.

Jesus gave thanks many times -
for often He said, "I thank Thee Oh Father".

How often we are commanded to give thanks: David in Psalms
95:2 tells us "Let us come before
His presence with thanksgiving,
and make a joyful noise unto Him
with Psalms." Again in Ps. 100:4:
"Enter into His gates with thanksgiving and into His courts with Praise and be thankful unto Him
and bless His name."

There are so many things to be thankful for - the often we suffer
- yet, is not God mindful of our difficulties? He cares and suffers with us. The Lord God suffered terribly when His only begotten Son, Jesus Christ was crucified
on the cross, in that we might have everlasting life if we would believe in Him. (John 3:16).

We see in Sec. Corinthians 9:15:
"Thanks be to God for His unspeakable gift - His exceeding grace - grace a period of time when we might make Jesus our personal Lord. 1st Thessalonians 5:18 tells us, "In everything give thanks for this is the will of God
in Jesus Christ concerning you."

So we add: We give thanks
oh Lord God almighty, for Thou hast done marvelous things - so wondrous art Thy ways, we glorify Thy name.

Committeeman Severin Bellevue
followed Fraser with some personal reminiscences about Arsenault,
and his assistance to candidates
over the years. The County Committee accorded Arsenault a standing ovation, and he was presented with a gift from the Mexico
Democrats.

It was announced that the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner will be held on Nov. 20 in Waterville. Tickets for the dinner and a reception preceding it are available from State Committee members Paul McGuire, Olive Moore and Jim Wilfong. Senator Gary Hart of Colorado will be the speaker at the dinner, and guest at the reception.

Tom Bourgeois, chairman of the County Committee fund raising supper, reported on plans for the affair which will be held on Nov.
26 in Bethel. This will be a Maine bean supper, and dancing following, with music provided by the band, "Linda with Feeling".

Mrs. Linda Merrill, wife of gubernatorial candidate State Sen.
Phil Merrill, and Merrill's campaign manager, Mary McAleney, were present at the meeting,
which had a good turnout of County Committee members.

The next regular County Committee meeting will be held in January in conjunction with a hearing of the State Platform Committee set for Oxford County. Final Plans will be announced in late December.

Competition in the Marathon is open to all and some 3,400 runners - from every walk of life and every age group - were entered to run in the event. Participants included runners from throughout the nation, as well as from several foreign countries.

The Marine Corps Memorial (Iwo Jima Monument) in Arlington, Va., marked the starting and finishing point for the scenic run which started at 9:00 a. m. and wound
around Washington and nearby Virginia in the shadows of such national landmarks as the U. S.
Capitol, Lincoln Memorial, and Jefferson Memorial.

Some day maybe we will have
enough game warden around to
put an end to this illegal way of hunting.

A Concerned Hunter

It is my opinion that the property tax is a very unfair way to raise money, especially amounts such as are needed to run our schools. It seems that this is a very old method that worked well
when smaller quantities of money were needed and there was little flow of cash. In modern times, with a large cash flow, it appears to me that taxing this movement
such as with income and sales taxes, is better. Owning property does not mean that one has the means of making a tax payment.
Property taxes are due on loan years as well as good ones. Anyone can have a bad year. However with income taxes you only pay when you are able. Sales taxes work much the same way.

Certainly there are problems with these as with any taxes. However the advantages far outweigh the disadvantages. I know it is tempting to try to use the property tax to raise benefits from out-of-staters. But at the same time we injure some of our faithful full time residents! Furthermore with the uniform property tax
the state is now interfering with local government. The resentment
this is causing, in itself, is enough reason to vote this tax out.

Perhaps we should raise 75-80%
of the monies needed for schools
via the sales and income taxes which are already in existence. It should not be an unbearable burden to raise perhaps 20% by local taxes without interference by any state tax assessors. In fact there would be no need for a state property tax division. Of course some changes would be necessary in the rules for doling out the money to local school units and for districts to collect the remaining needed funds. This can be done and without a lot of strings attached to the allotments provided each school
unit.

Reports from outsiders on how Maine compares to anything are irrelevant. Maine people should decide what is best for them and tell the politicians and bureaucrats to do it "our way".

There is not room in this short letter to give all the reasons to vote to repeal the uniform property tax.

Sincerely yours,
Leon Akers

P. S. I hope you can print this.
I am not a member of any group.
I would also like to write on one or two more ideas in this regard.

Letters to the Editor

November 10, 1977

Dear Sir:
I used to hunt for game avidly.
Now I hunt for what Mrs. Collista
Morgan writes about in her weekly column.

You are indeed lucky and blessed to have such a talented correspondent from our charming Greenwood City area.

Sincerely and with all best wishes for continued success with your nice paper.

Kindly,
Anthony R. Stone

I like to think of deer hunting
as a sport. I think most hunters feel the same, but there are some hunters who shoot deer just to see how many they can kill in a day or a season. This kind of hunter boast about their big kill and think they are something special. THEY ARE NOT!

They get most of their deer by driving strips of land or islands.
The deer in these places haven't got a chance. They are literally surrounded by hunters and the end is sure death. The hunters congregate in groups of 10 or 20
and spend a day driving deer out to another hunter where the "great hunter" gets an easy broadside shot. It might be well to mention that driving deer in the State of Maine is illegal. I guess some hunters must have forgotten this fact.

I know of a good hunter who spent all last week in the woods, and didn't get a deer. It makes me a little mad to know of a certain party of hunters that got six deer
last Saturday by driving islands and small strips of land in the Bethel area.

Some day maybe we will have
enough game warden around to
put an end to this illegal way of

The Bethel Lions and their ladies met Tuesday evening at the Bethel Savings Bank. After an excellent pot luck dinner coordinated by Ginger Kelly and Linda Clymer, a short business meeting was held. A highlight of the dinner was the Lions shaped cake made by Gert Friel.

Plans were discussed for the upcoming Lions-Rotary Social in December, and the Children's Christmas Party also to be held in December. The Club voted to purchase a piece of equipment for the B.E.A.R.S. to be used in training their personnel in lifesaving procedures. The B.E.A.R.S. provide a vital service to our community and this piece of equipment will enable them to be able to continue to provide the best quality help to all of us.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, a special candlelight initiation ceremony was held to welcome Peter Anderson into the membership of Lions International.

The next meeting of the Bethel Lions Club will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 6, 1977, at the American Legion Hall.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY SPONSORS EXHIBIT

In cooperation with Citizens for Historic Preservation the Bethel Historical Society as part of its continuing outreach program is sponsoring an exhibit entitled "Historic Preservation in Maine."

Consisting of 10 panels which highlight architecture from Maine's 16 counties the exhibit will be in Bethel during the month of November in the lobby of the Bethel Savings Bank and may be seen during banking hours. The exhibit, which has previously been displayed at the State House, Colby College, Bath Marine Museum, and the University of Maine, Farmington, attempts to further public understanding and interest in Maine's architectural heritage.

The Oxford County Democrats will hold a Thanksgiving Party on Saturday, Nov. 26. The evening will begin with a Maine Bean supper scheduled for 6 o'clock at Gould Academy's Gehring Hall Dining Room on Church Street in Bethel. Following the supper the evening will continue with a dance. Music for both the supper and dance will be provided by the band "Linda With Feeling."

The group, featuring lead vocalist Linda Jay, is well known for its blend of light rock and contemporary country music, and recently was nominated as one of the best groups at the Maine Country Music Downs. At the same show, Linda Jay received recognition in the vocalist category.

Both the supper and dance are open to Democrats and their guests and Tom Bourgeois of South Paris, who is chairman of the evening, has announced that he has received donations of merchandise for door prizes. Food for the supper is being prepared by many of the renowned chefs who claim membership on the various town Democratic committees throughout Oxford County, and will feature, in addition to baked beans, a variety of casseroles, salads and desserts.

Tickets for the supper and dance are available from County Committee members throughout the county. Anyone desiring information should contact Thomas Bourgeois in South Paris.

Franklin Gould in his book, "A Maine Man in the Making" relates a yarn told him in a coastal town in Massachusetts. Seems a man saw some possibilities in a large mussel bed at the end of some wharves. He planted several trees of which four took root, dove piles and added sod. The river added silt and he had an island. He built a dance hall, barroom and boarding house furnished with his own. He had a trained jackass who drank the beer given him by customers, then when it had enough slept it off beside the water's edge. A group of marines decided to throw the animal over-

The proprietor got a jail sentence out of the deal and while he was gone, a violent storm and high tides swept away the trees, piles and building. The woman fled with the marines or elsewhere and the island returned to a mussel bed. Maybe this reversing by nature would occur if Lake Umbagog is mined. Hopefully the operation would be a much lofter project. Again, it could be like the slag heaps or other beautiful spots where irreparable damage has been done.

NEW BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY

"Coma," Robin Cook. This is a powerful medical thriller written with a doctor's intimate knowledge of the medical world. It is a chilling story of horror in an institution of healing. LG

"The Salamanca Drum," Dorothy Eden. Sweeping from 1890 to WWII to the opening of Britain's confrontation with the Nazis, "The Salamanca Drum" is master story teller Dorothy Eden's most panoramic, captivating novel yet—and brings to vivid life her most remarkable heroine.

"These Three Aient," John Ball. This novel is set during the era of WWII. It is the story of men stationed in the Arctic and the aircraft they fly from there. A must for some of our male patrons.

"Special People," Julie Nixon Eisenhower. Interesting anecdotes and events in the lives of people such as Golda Meir, Prince Charles of England, Mrs. Billy Graham and others.

"Stone Bull," Phyllis Whitney. Trying to clear her dead sister's name, a beautiful woman risks her life and future happiness.

"The Audubon Society Field Guide to North American Birds"—This shows the birds of the eastern and western regions of the U.S. Beautiful color photos.

"All Things Wise and Wonderful," James Herriot. Herriot recalls yet more of his life as a veterinarian in his third book. We follow him through humorous and trying times as he joins the RAF at the outset of WW II. We meet his many friends in peaceful Yorkshire—among them an ancient cow and an unusual thoroughbred horse. Those of you who have read his previous two books will be delighted with this one. Those who haven't read any will want to read all three—you will be delighted too.

"Sea Witch," Alistair MacLean. Another action packed novel about intrigue, sabotage and violence among oil billionaires. A must for MacLean fans.

"Until the Colors Fade," Tim Jeal. Set in Victorian England, this novel of love, passion and deceit follows the tangled intrigues of three proud families—and the beautiful woman who would come between them.

EAST ANDOVER COMMUNITY CLUB HAS ANNUAL MEETING

On Nov. 8 all the members of the East Andover Community Club met with Elizabeth Sennett for the annual meeting. Jeanette Chenery assisted the hostess.

President Evelyn Bell opened the meeting by reading a poem "Grandma Tells It Like It Was!" followed by the Lord's prayer.

Violet Swain, Secretary, read the minutes of the October meeting and noted that get well cards and anniversary cards had been sent out. Treasurer, Barbara Meisner, read her monthly report.

Annual reports were read by both officers. Mrs. Swain reported that the club's average attendance for the year was 10 out of a possible 11. 58 cards had been sent out for various reasons; 16 had received Easter gifts (this includes community residents over 70 years of age); five funeral plants. In January the club lost a charter member, Myra Crooker.

Mrs. Meisner reported that the club had spent out for the Congregational Church Sunday School, the Calvary Congregational Church Sunday School, Hope Training School, Pineland Hospital, Senior award, Christmas cards for all service men and women from Andover, the Easter gifts, a donation to the Mike Dunn Junior Ski Trip to Colorado, and to have the name of the club placed on the Andover Library Plaque. The only monies taken in were for dues, a summer sale, birthday money and a memorial gift from the Crooker family.

The ten members brought in 100 gifts to be packed for the Pineland Hospital.

The hostess list for 1978 was compiled. A very special meeting will be held in May to celebrate the club's 40th anniversary.

Officers were elected for the next two years. Pres., Evelyn Bell; First Vice-Pres., Lila Farrington; Second Vice-Pres., Eldora Jones;

Gould's Academy closed a most profitable and successful term Friday, with a public examination, and exhibition in the evening. The examination was highly satisfactory, and showed a thoroughness on the part of the teachers, and an application on the part of the scholars quite commendable. Mr. Timberlake, the principal, and Mr. D. R. Hastings, his assistant, take rank among our best teachers. The prize declamation and readings in the evening filled the Congregational church to its utmost capacity with an appreciative audience. The music by members of the school was excellent. A duet by Misses Emma Grover and Ava Young, was most finely rendered, and enthusiastically received by the audience. The declamations and readings showed much application on the part of the scholars and faithful training on the part of the teachers. It will be grossly improper for me to make distinctions in the excellencies of the performance when all did so well; but the committee to award the prizes, A. E. Herrick, Esq., Rev.

C. E. Bisbee and Rev. A. Rosserman, awarded the prize for best declamation to O'Neil W. R. Hastings, and the best reading to Miss Susie B. Twitchell. The school has seventy names upon its register, and the trustees have been exceedingly fortunate in their teachers. The Academy Herald is a new feature in the school arrangement, and indicates the spirit of enterprise and energy with which the teachers enter upon their work.

The Free and Accepted Masons opened their new hall over the store of M. T. Cross & Co. Thursday, to the inspection of the public. It is one of the most conven-ent and tastefully decorated halls outside of the cities. The hall is 40 by 28, and 15 feet in the clear. G. R. Wiley and L. W. Russell, the committee on furniture, have displayed their usual good taste in their selections, and the hall when lighted in the evening, is magnificent in appearance. The ante-rooms, wardrobes, and all appurtenances are in perfect keeping with the hall. The carpets were purchased at the rooms of the well known carpet dealers, Joel Goldthwaite & Co., Boston. The sofas and chairs were manufactured by Shaw & Applir of Boston, the wardrobes by Sylvester Robertson of Bethel, the well known furniture manufacturer, the stoves from S. A. Brock and O. H. Mason, the popular hardware dealers in this place, the chandelier from Chas. E. Jose and Co., Portland. The hall is an ornament to the village, and shows commendable enterprise in the honorable and worthy order. All persons are invited to attend this service in this 125 year old church which observed its anniversary in August.

THANKSGIVING DAY SERVICES CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Familiar words from the 100th Psalm will be read Nov. 24 at all Thanksgiving services of Churches of Christ, Scientist.

"Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise; be thankful unto him, and bless his name."

These services are a traditional annual worship occasion in branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, corner Main and Tenth Streets, will be held at eleven o'clock, Thanksgiving Day morning. The service will include reading of the Thanksgiving Proclamation of the President of the United States and a Bible Lesson-Sermon on the subject of Thanksgiving. No collection will be taken. Everyone in the community is welcome to attend.

Among citations also read from the denominational textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following:

"To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done. Outward worship is not of itself sufficient to express loyal and heartfelt gratitude, since he has said: 'If ye love me, keep my commandments.'"

Mrs. Irma Thompson, Substitute First Reader and Miss Lillian Anderson, Substitute Second Reader, will conduct the services, which also include testimonies of gratitude by church members.

LURC STUDYING POLLUTANTS ORIGINATING FROM FOREST HARVESTING

The first state-wide effort to evaluate the impact of silt and other pollutants originating from forest harvesting operations on water quality is being undertaken by Maine's Land Use Regulation Commission (LURC). The study is being undertaken as a part of a 208 water quality program being conducted by LURC for the Department of Environmental Protection. A complete outline of the work program is available from the Department of Conservation, LURC, Augusta, Maine 04333.

Kenneth Stratton, LURC's Director, says that the state-wide analysis has been designed so that "one consistent, statistically valid study will result". He pointed out that while LURC's jurisdiction is limited to unorganized areas of the state, a uniform approach will be applied by the research team on a state-wide basis.

Lance Connors, Director of the project, says 556 randomly selected forest harvesting operations undertaken during the past three years will be studied by trained personnel from the Maine Forest Service. The sites are located in both the organized and unorganized areas of the State.

Connors says that although numerous erosion and sedimentation problems have been documented in Maine over the years, "the extent of such erosion and its effect on water quality is incompletely understood". He says an analysis of the data collected during the current study should help provide some of the needed information.

LURC is a unit of the Maine Department of Conservation and functions as a planning agency for the unorganized areas of the State. Its responsibilities include efforts to "maintain and enhance water quality classifications and adopt a policy of non-degradation to ensure high-quality water supplies for the people of the State".

Greenwood City

Mrs. Collista Morgan, Correspondent

A few days ago I went up the mountain, up past the spring and on to the old walled field. No squirrel as usual to welcome me. He was, no doubt, busy down the hill under the oak trees. But I did hear a pileated woodpecker with his magnificent tattoo working in a dead elm tree. I examined his work and found a hole six inches long, two inches wide, and one-fourth of the tree deep, there in the trunk. He had also cut another one about a foot above it. No wonder he is called Cock of the Woods. I am always thrilled to see one.

I thought it was a good day for "stump sitting!" I hoped Cock of the Woods might return to his work. Ever try "stump sitting?" For comfort's sake choose one reasonably level. It's good to have open woods and deciduous trees before you, to supply the view and evergreens to the north and west to add protection from the wind. Of course you need warm clothing and warm boots. Then with a camera and field glasses you are ready for what comes.

The country side today was ragged with an unkempt look. The weathered grass and bushes sprang and twisted around gaping milkweed pods. Vines dangled from bushes near a wall. Golden-rod spread at random. Nature didn't care. Nature is much too busy. Leaves were everywhere. They furnish the mulch to protect and nourish as they return to the soil. Earth needs these or the trees starve and die. So if autumn does leave an untidy mess, nature thrives on it. She hoards it and uses it. Not so with man.

As I sat awhile, the smallest of the woodpeckers came. He is a plain colored bird, gray, black, and white and the male has a scarlet band on his head. I watched him as he held to the tree. His wide-spread hind claws braced him in the wind, while his tail feathers were like stiff spines to help him also. He has an unusual physical feature. Instead of three toes in front and one in back, as most birds, the downy has two in front and two in back. This helps him cling to the tree. He was interesting to watch, as his long, horn-tipped tongue extracted grubs from the wood or bark.

Some people do not like November but I like to walk the fields and observe things which were lost in the lushness of summer. It's easy now to tell where the bird families were raised, where the hornets' nests are swinging, and where the woodchucks had their dens. It is a month of simplicity and changing weather. I found these things today. I also found the Witch Hazel bush. In the fall this bush shakes out its narrow, yellow-ribbon blossoms. The leaves, which are oval, turn a dull gold and drop quickly, but the blossoms stay for several weeks.

Coming back, my way was barred on the spring road by an apple tree. Recently in a fury of wind the gnarled tree with bulging, shaggy limbs gave up its long battle and came down. It, once, generations ago, displayed pink-and-white blossoms and produced fruit, juicy and good. Later Clyde cleared it away and brought it to the wood pile.

Another delightful outdoor afternoon was over.

"The distant hills and mountains high
The rolling clouds and bright blue sky,
No one can take these views from me
As long as I have eyes to see."

TOWN MANAGER'S COMMENTS

sis and that the hours will be reviewed after the first of the year. The Board and Manager discussed at length, the consulting firms who have indicated an interest in conducting the facilities plan for sewer system upgrading. After discussion the Board voted to enter into final negotiations with the firm of DuBois and King of Randolph, Vt.

A revised vehicle excise tax policy relating to extras charged for, was approved by the Board for implementation Jan. 1, 1978. The Town Clerk noted that the policy was developed by himself in cooperation with the Tax Collectors from area Towns. A number of area towns will also be using this same policy. The Board asked the Town Clerk to send a copy to all towns in the area and also to the State. The Board also noted that a statewide policy relating to this matter should be developed.

The Board set the date of Monday, Dec. 19, for a special Town Meeting. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the Fire Station. The key items to be considered at the meeting are the appropriation of anti-recessionary federal funds and the transfer of funds from accounts with anticipated surpluses to accounts with overdrafts. Other items that may be considered include new street specification ordinance and a dump ordinance.

The Manager distributed copies of the proposed "new" street specifications ordinances and the Board reviewed the material and requested that one change be made. Formal action will take place at a later meeting.

The Manager distributed copies of the application for the Federal grant for the Airport Master Plan Study for the Board review. After review, the Board designated the Town Manager as the sponsor's representative in signing documents relating to the Master Plan application.

TELSTAR BAND KICKING OFF UNIFORM FUND DRIVE

The Junior and Senior High Band at Telstar Regional High School are kicking off their fund drive, hoping to make $1,000 toward the expense of replacing 60 band uniforms. The total cost of replacement is estimated to be $8,000.

They are selling Stanley Home Products "Quality Plus" Family Comb Packs, to reach their goal. Four in a pack, these are great Christmas stocking stuffers, and a practical home item.

Tuesday at the high school enthusiasm was great and the first student to stand up to take four dozen was Rick Rowe, a 13-year-old seventh grader. Stanley Dealer Sally G. Wilson bought the first dozen from him.

Members of the band hope to graduate and leave their high school with the memory of helping to purchase new band uniforms. The uniforms currently in use are seeing their tenth year of service.

Prizes are being offered for the band members having the most success as a salesperson: 1st prize, choice of either a Buova Caravel men's or lady's watch; 2nd, portable AM-FM radio; 3rd, American Heritage Dictionary.

If a band member approaches you, please help them achieve their goal. The drive ends Nov. 29.

JACKSON-SILVER POST & UNIT HOLD ARMISTICE DAY OBSERVANCE LAST FRIDAY

The Sixth Annual Armistice Day Observance sponsored by Jackson Silver Post and Unit #68, American Legion and Auxiliary, was well attended last Friday, Nov. 11, beginning with a parade at 11 a. m. The Post and Unit colors led the procession. The marshals were District Commander Warren Smith and District President Jeri Brooks of Bethel.

The memorial spray was made by P. P. Catheryn Lovejoy and was carried and placed at the Honor Roll by Chaplain Fannie Cummings.

The Telstar Marching Band, directed by Jerry Heffley, furnished the music and were in their usual good form.

Judges of the floats were Comrade Merle Ring, Bryant Pond; Ed Roach of the 40 & 8 of Rumford, and State Vice Commander Chester Worthington of Brunswick.

First place was shared by the D. U. V.'s float "Tenting Tonight" and Roy Smith's "Two Jims". Second prize went to the West children for their entry "Westward Ho". Vernon Redding was given third place money with his model A Ford.

Moving Expense Tax Deductions

Prior to 1970, your moving expense deduction was limited to the cost of transporting your household goods and family transportation costs for the move (including food and lodging).

Little by little, other expenses of making the move were added to the deductible expense list. Now they have been liberalized even more with the 1976 tax reform bill. Effective in 1977, here is how the new scorecard reads.

You can deduct up to $3,000 for the cost of real estate commissions, mortgage costs and similar items incurred in buying or selling your home or settling a lease. Of this $3,000 total—one half (or up to $1,500)

—may be deducted for expenses incurred for pre-move house-hunting expenses as well as temporary living expenses for up to 30 days at your new location.

These benefits apply to the self-employed as well as employees. In order to qualify for this moving expense deduction, the reason for the move must be a job change and the new job site must be at least 35 miles away.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at EARLY REAL ESTATE, 60 Main St., Bethel. Phone: 824-2122, 824-2579. We're here to help!
